Studying History at the Ohio State University

The author James Baldwin once famously quipped, “History is not the past. It is the present. We carry our history with us. We are our history.” To Baldwin’s point, history—perhaps more than any other subject—is the key to understanding ourselves and the world around us. As a discipline, history touches upon every human endeavor, from science and technology to art, psychology, and politics and everything in between. History is the sum total of the human experience, and that experience serves as a mirror reflecting today’s events.

Baldwin implied something that all students of history know: that only through the study of the past may the human species confront and solve its biggest problems: climate change, racism, war, genocide, the rise of authoritarianism, economic downturns, terrorism, famine, inequality and, yes, pandemics. “Renewing the connection between past and future,” wrote Jo Guldi and David Armitage in The History Manifesto, “and using the past to think critically about what is to come, are the tools that we need now. Historians are those best able to supply them.”

History majors develop and sharpen critical thinking skills and many others. Richard Neusdtadt and Ernest May argued that historical thinking was indispensable to formulating effective policy. Former Secretary of Defense James Mattis credited his study of the past for making him a better decision-maker and leader. One of OSU’s own, former ambassador and B.F. Goodrich CEO John Ong underscored the value of the history major in developing deep understanding of human beings and institutions and in instilling cultural competence, all crucial elements in business success. Students of history analyze change and continuity, develop sensitivity to context and awareness of contingencies, and understand better than most the complexities of human experience. They learn to read closely, write persuasively, and think clearly and imaginatively about the problems that people have confronted for thousands of years and, more importantly, the ones that this planet’s citizens will have to solve in the coming decades.

As a result of this broad training, one may find history majors in a wide range of fields. Our department’s alums are pursuing careers in business, publishing, journalism, public relations, non-profit administration, government, law, military and foreign service, libraries and archives, information technology, logistics, education, art and design, medicine and public health, economic development, and regional planning, among many others. The study of history is a great way to prepare for graduate or professional school in disciplines as diverse as medicine, education, business, the humanities and social sciences, and law.

The history major at Ohio State may be completed in as few as three semesters and pairs well with other majors and minors. The only requisite for history courses is first-level writing and English 1110 may even be taken during the same semester as one’s first major-applicable courses. Prospective majors should contact Raymond Irwin (Irwin.8@osu.edu) for more information and to discuss the many opportunities that the OSU Department of History offers.

The History Major

The history major consists of a minimum of 33 credit hours at the 2000-level and above. Three courses, History 2800, two 4000-level Seminars are required, and at least 24 more hours must be chosen within the categories outlined below. Students are encouraged to design a history major in consultation with an academic advisor, who must approve all courses taken toward the major. Ideally, the student should select history courses to complement general education (GE) courses, as well as those contained in another major or in minors. Many history courses may be counted toward the major and toward the embedded literacies requirements of the current GE program.

Overview

The 33 credit hours must fulfill the following five required areas (see below for details):

- A) Skills Acquisition (9 credit hours)
- B) Breadth (12 credit hours)
- C) Concentration (12 credit hours)
- D) Progression (included in above credit hours)
- E) GE Embedded Literacies (included in above credit hours)

If students double count courses and fulfill all of the requirements in Categories A-C before reaching the required 33 credit hours, they must still satisfy the 33-credit-hour requirement of the major. They will fill in the remaining credit hours with history courses of their choosing, but a student is never required to exceed 33 credit hours in order to fulfill the requirements in Categories A-C. With the academic advisor's approval, up to six credit hours of courses from other departments may be designated as part of Category B (Breadth) requirements for the major program in history.

Limitations: No more than three credit hours of History 3193 or 4193 ("Individual Studies"), six credit hours of History 2798, 3798, or 4798 ("Study Tour"), or nine credit hours of 4998, 4998H, 4999, and 4999H may be counted towards the major program. Students must earn a C- or higher on all courses that apply to the major (except 2800, which must be a C or higher); one must have a GPA of 2.00 or higher in the major.

Category A: Skills Acquisition (9 credit hours)

The following three seminars (9 credit hours) are required of all history majors.

A (1) History 2800: Introduction to the Discipline of History (3 credit hours)

The "gateway" course for history majors, History 2800 emphasizes critical reading and writing, and introduces students to the methodologies, approaches, and historiographies of historical study. A student must pass History 2800 with at least a "C."

A (2) Two 4000-level Seminars in History (6 credit hours)

The two seminars—normally taken in the junior or senior year—will focus on historiography, analysis, methodology and interpretation, and will emphasize research and writing skills. Note: History 4193, 4194 and 4797-4999 do not fulfill this requirement.

- 4005 Seminar in Early American History
- 4015 Seminar in Modern U.S. History
- 4085 Seminar in African American History
- 4125 Seminar in Latin American History
- 4215 Seminar in Greek History

Category B: Breadth (12 credit hours)

Students are required to develop a program that includes chronological and geographic breadth.

This includes:

- (1) 2 courses (6 credit hours) focusing chronologically on the period before 1750;
- (2) 2 courses (6 credit hours) focusing chronologically on the period after 1750;
- (3) 2 courses (6 credit hours) focusing primarily on East Asia, Africa, Latin America, the Middle East, Central Asia, and South Asia;
- (4) 2 courses (6 credit hours) focusing primarily on North America and/or Europe;
- (5) 1 course (3 credit hours) focusing on comparative, transnational, transregional, or global history. Lists of courses that fulfill each of these requirements are below.

Students are permitted to use one course to satisfy more than one of these five areas of breadth simultaneously. For example, a course on Ancient Rome would satisfy the pre-1750 requirement and a "Europe" requirement simultaneously. That is, geographical and chronological requirements can be fulfilled by the same course. In addition, the two 4000-level seminars can also fulfill any of these chronological and geographic requirements. That is, A (2) or (3) can simultaneously satisfy any of the requirements in Category B. For Example, History 4235 (Seminar in Medieval History) would not only satisfy the A (2) requirement of a Seminar but would also satisfy one pre-1750 requirement and one "Europe" requirement. Courses used to satisfy Category C (Concentration) can simultaneously count towards Category B and vice versa.

As a result, the total credit hours required for each of the five different sub-categories of Category B “Breadth” do not add up to the 12 credit hours required in this category. However, because of double counting, both within the requirements of Category B and among Categories A-C, no student will be required to take more than 12 distinct credit hours in Category B.

East Asia; and Africa.

C (2) Thematic concentrations:

This includes the two required 4000-level seminars (six credit hours) plus at least 15 credit hours at the 3000-level or above. One 2000-level history course must be taken prior to enrolling in a 3000-level history course (or with instructor permission). One 3000-level history course must be taken prior to enrolling in a 4000- or a 5000-level history course.

By means of coursework within the history major, students may also fulfill the GE embedded literacies requirements: (1) advanced writing; (2) data analysis; and (3) technology. Some courses fulfill more than one of these categories, so students may only need to take two courses to complete the embedded literacies (e.g., 2800 and one of the 4000-level seminars). The Undergraduate Minor in History

The minor in history is designed to provide students with substantial understanding of the human past. For most colleges, no minor program form is required; the minor will show as completed on the degree audit. For certain colleges, though, an academic advisor in history must approve a minor program form and file it with a major advisor.

The minor consists of twelve credit hours of history course work at the 2000 level and above. Of these, at least six credit hours must be at the 3000 level or above. Courses at the 1000 level cannot be used on the minor. Up to two courses toward the minor may come from approved transfer coursework or coursework from other departments. At least two courses (six credit hours) must come from the Department of History at Ohio State.

Students are free to choose any history courses they wish to fulfill the twelve credit hours but are encouraged to take courses that focus on a particular theme, time period, or geographic region. Students are also encouraged to consult with an academic advisor when preparing their minor, as six credit hours in the minor may overlap with general education requirements but may not overlap with a major or another minor.

No more than three credit hours of History 3193 or 4193 (“Individual Studies”) may be counted towards the minor and no more than three credit hours of History 2797, 2798, 3797, 3798, 4797, or 4798 (“Study at a Foreign Institution” and “Study Tour”) may be counted towards the minor.

A minimum of C- must be earned in each course counted toward the minor. With few emergency exceptions, coursework graded pass/non-pass may not count on the minor. A minimum 2.00 cumulative point-hour ratio is required for the minor. Generally, minors may not be added after a student’s graduation application has been submitted.

The Honors Program in History

In addition to the basic requirements for the history major, honors students should complete the following additional requirements.

1. Honors history majors are encouraged to take honors versions of History 2800 and the two 4000-level seminars described above in Category A: Skills Acquisition (9 credit hours). If insufficient honors seminars are offered in a given semester, an honors history major must either (1) take an honors embedded seminar or (2) request permission from the department honors advisor to substitute a non-honors seminar for an honors seminar.
2. Honors students are encouraged to take honors versions of the other 24 credit hours of other courses (discussed above), whenever possible. Students should only take non-honors 2000-level courses when a topical equivalent is not available at the 3000 level.
3. Honors students are encouraged to take more of the 4000-level seminars than the two required for the major.
4. Advanced ability in foreign languages is important for all honors students choosing the history major. Every honors student choosing the history major is encouraged to develop proficiency (meaning the ability to read newspapers, magazines, scholarly journals, and novels) in at least one foreign language.

5. Senior honors thesis: Honors students wishing to be graduated “With Honors Research Distinction” are required to write a senior honors thesis. In preparation, they are encouraged to use the coursework from a 4000-level seminar as the foundation for the thesis.

6. History honors majors who are not in pre-professional programs or taking a second major must complete a major of at least 39 credit hours. Students completing a thesis and earning a degree “With Honors Research Distinction” may use the 6-9 credit hours earned in History 4999H toward the 39-credit-hour minimum.

Purpose

Honors students majoring in history complete both the major and the requirements for "Honors in the Arts and Sciences" or "With Honors Research Distinction" or both. In order for history majors pursuing a Bachelor of Arts degree in the College of Arts and Sciences to maintain status as an honors student, they must prepare and follow a program of study approved by the Arts and Sciences Honors Committee. Students earning a degree with “Honors in the Arts and Sciences” complete an honors contract approved by the ASC Honors Committee; these contracts provide for a rigorous program of study. Students earning a degree with “Honors Research Distinction” complete an Honors Thesis under the supervision of a thesis advisor in the Department of History. Some history majors satisfy the requirement for both designations and receive both designations on their degrees.

Honors students choosing the history major will engage in a course of study designed to sharpen writing, research, and analytical skills, to develop insights into how historians do their work, and to gain substantial historical knowledge. The history major furnishes excellent preparation for graduate-level work, for professional schools including law school, and for careers in business, education, the arts, and public service.

Honors students seeking help with their history major should first see Dr. Raymond Irwin (Irwin.8@osu.edu), 110 Dulles Hall, 614-292-7101. He is available to discuss the honors requirements and to help with scheduling classes. Dr. Irwin also helps plan the section on the major in the honors contract required for receiving a degree with “Honors in the Arts and Sciences” and recommends faculty advisors to the individual student. Students who undertake an honors thesis also will have a faculty advisor for that project and will enroll in History 4999H, “Honors Undergraduate Research Thesis.”

Expectations

Honors students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences work closely with advisors and members of the faculty to develop a rigorous program of study. With the approval of the Arts and Sciences Honors Committee, the program of study may approach requirements flexibly so long as the program includes special rigor and intellectual challenges. Honors students majoring in history thus must work closely with the Arts and Sciences Honors program staff to ensure completion of the requirements of the Arts and Sciences Honors Program.

The faculty of the history department encourages the honors student to complete the degree “With Honors Research Distinction” through the writing of an honors thesis. Completion of a thesis is important preparation for successful performance in a professional or graduate program. Thesis completion occurs through enrollment in History 4999H, “Honors Undergraduate Research Thesis.” Students planning to write a thesis should, in consultation with their thesis advisor, define a topic and devise a plan of work at least two semesters prior to their anticipated graduation. They may also apply for the Arts and Sciences Undergraduate Research Scholarship competition.

Requirements

There are two components to the history honors program. The first is the major program in history; the second is the ASC Honors Program. The requirements for the major program in history for honors students have been described above. This section describes the various tracks the ASC Honors Program offers, along with Department of History requirements.

In addition to the above requirements, and as established by the ASC Honors Program and the Department of History, history honors students must choose one of the following three tracks.

A. *With Honors Research Distinction*

The History Department faculty recommends that history honors students write an honors thesis, because completion of a thesis prepares students for graduate or professional school or professional employment.

A history honors student planning to graduate with Honors Research Distinction will:

- devise with the faculty thesis advisor at least two semesters before graduation a prospectus for the honors thesis. The ASC Honors Committee must approve the prospectus. While working on the thesis, the student will enroll in History 4999H for a total of at least 6 credit hours and a maximum of 9 credit hours.
- graduate with a GPA of no less than 3.40.
- meet the prerequisites for History 4999H: the completion of at least 18 credit hours in history, with a grade point average in the history courses of at least 3.50.
- enroll in a History 4999H, “Honors Undergraduate Research Thesis.”

B. *With Honors in the Arts and Sciences*

History honors students planning to be graduated with Honors in the Arts and Sciences will:

- fulfill an honors contract. The honors contract is devised by the student in consultation with the history and ASC honors advisors. It should be submitted as soon as possible and no later than early in the junior year, and it must be approved by the ASC Honors Committee
- complete the 4000-level Seminars, taking honors sections when possible. Honors students are encouraged to take more of the 4000-level seminars than the two required for the major.

- graduate with a GPA of no less than 3.40.

C. Honors in the Arts and Sciences with Honors Research Distinction

History honors students planning to be graduated with Honors in the Arts and Sciences and with Honors Research Distinction will fulfill all of the requirements listed in A. and B. above.

Note: Under exceptional circumstances, the Department of History is willing to modify the requirements of the honors program in history to fit the specific needs of individual students. Such modifications must conform to the policies of the Arts and Sciences Honors Committee.

Academic Advising Services

Academic advisors at The Ohio State University play a critical role in student success. Advisors are available to help students plan and execute their program of study, work towards professional goals, and connect students to campus resources. The advising relationship is a partnership, and students are highly encouraged to meet with their assigned advisor once a semester. In addition to academic and career planning, academic advisors can assist with questions regarding the major or minor, grades, transfer credit, petitions, scheduling, degree planning, graduation, and more.

Scheduling an Appointment: Students have the option of an in-person or virtual advising appointment. To request an advising appointment, please email your assigned academic advisor, Cara Baarendse (Baarendse.4@osu.edu) or Raymond Irwin (Irwin.8@osu.edu), using your OSU student email. In your email request, please note your reason for the appointment request, weekly meeting availability (days/times), preference for in-person or virtual, and your student ID number.

Student academic records are confidential and protected by law. If you plan to bring a guest or have a guest on speakerphone, please fill out a Student Information Release form in BuckeyeLink.

Student Responsibilities: As a student, you should be actively engaged in your academic career and aware of your responsibilities. Please pay attention to your campus email daily, maintain good academic standing, and refer to the University Registrar for important dates and deadlines. Please review the following information to prepare for your advising appointment, and if you cannot attend the appointment, please call or email in advance.

Academic Standing: All students are required to maintain good academic standing. If your GPA falls below 2.0 and/or you are not making satisfactory progress towards your degree, the College of Arts and Sciences will notify you of your updated academic status. You may be placed on academic warning, academic probation, or special action probation. Continuous periods of academic difficulty may lead to academic dismissal. If you are struggling academically, please make arrangements to meet with your academic advisor as soon as possible.

Withdraw or Take a Leave of Absence: We understand that life can be unpredictable. If you find yourself in a situation where you will need to withdraw from courses or decide to not enroll the following term, please set up an advising appointment.

Return from Leave of Absence or Academic Dismissal: If you are seeking to return from a leave of absence or academic dismissal, please contact the advising office of the major you were enrolled in when you left. A petition for reinstatement will need to be filed and approved for any instances of academic dismissal.

Graduation: Students must apply for graduation no later than the graduation deadline set by the college. The College of Arts and Sciences graduation application process requires students to meet with their assigned advisor to review and complete the graduation application. Approval for graduation is granted at the end of the semester once a final review is completed. Details regarding commencement are released close to the graduation date.

Undergraduate Research

The Department of History offers several ways for undergraduates to engage in research. One way is to assist faculty members with their research. This work may be completed for credit toward the major.

Another way is to devise your own short-term project under the direction of a faculty member. This, too, may be completed for course credit, but no more than three credit hours of research assistance or independent study may count toward the history major or history minor.

Students who are not in the honors program may also earn research distinction by completing and defending an undergraduate thesis. To qualify, students must complete a minimum of sixty graded credit hours at Ohio State, submit an application, complete at least four credit hours of History 4999, defend the thesis before the thesis advisor and at least one outside reader, and be graduated with at least a 3.0 overall GPA.

Undergraduates may apply for funds to support their research. The Department of History also encourages the presentation and publication of student research. Undergraduates might also consider submitting work to the Department's very own student-edited publication, The Scarlet Historical Review.

Scholarships and Prizes in History

Each year, the Department of History awards tens of thousands of dollars in undergraduate scholarships and grants, as well as prizes for outstanding work submitted in 4000-level seminars. Applications typically must be submitted in early March.

The Lloyd Robert Evans Endowed Scholarship in History

Lloyd Robert Evans (BA 1933, History; MD, Harvard, 1940) led a distinguished career as a physician specializing in general internal medicine. The scholarship was established by the sister of the honoree, Jane Ann Evans Nielsen (BA 1936, History; BS 1936, Education), of Knoxville, Tennessee. The Evans Endowed Scholarship provides scholarships for undergraduate students of junior or senior rank who are majoring in history. The scholarship is awarded annually on the basis of both merit and need. Candidates for the scholarship should possess a GPA of 3.4 or above and exhibit a broad range of interests.

Dr. Morris Frommer Award

Phi Alpha Theta and History Club at the Ohio State University

Students are eligible for selection to the Phi Alpha Theta honor society upon completion of 15 credit hours in history within the past six years, provided that they have a grade point average of 3.1 or higher in their history courses, have a grade point average of at least 3.0 overall, have taken at least one history course at the 2000 level or higher in the previous year, and rank in the top 35% of their class. As part of an international honor society, the Ohio State chapter strives to promote the study of history and encourages research and advanced scholarship in the field. Phi Alpha Theta at Ohio State provides opportunities for the informal exchange of ideas among historians and students of history outside the classroom and organizes various social activities. Initiation into membership occurs once per year, in spring semester. The advisor for Phi Alpha Theta is Raymond Irwin, (irwin.8@osu.edu).

The History Club is the OSU student organization dedicated to encouraging a love for history and the social interaction of “history nerds,” regardless of major. The officers of the Zeta Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta provide the leadership for the History Club, but one does not have to be in Phi Alpha Theta to take part in club activities.

For the 2022 – 2023 academic year, the leaders of Phi Alpha Theta and the History Club are:

Alli Aldis, President (aldis.2@osu.edu);
Lauren Sullivan, Vice President (sullivan.1299@osu.edu);
Matthew Raskin, Treasurer (raskin.23@osu.edu); and Josie Sull, Social Media Chair (sull.3@osu.edu).

After Graduation

History prepares students for a wide variety of careers. Reports from the Arts and Sciences Office of Career Services at Ohio State indicate that former history majors are working in business, banking, teaching, government service, social work, library and archival work, publishing, and law, among many other fields. History has always been recognized as one of the best undergraduate programs for those planning to go into law, but professional and business schools value a well-rounded liberal education as a basis upon which to build their programs.

Though history is an excellent major for students who do not know exactly what they would like to do professionally, the Department recommends that students explore career options as early as possible in their time as undergraduates. Students are encouraged to contact the Center for Career and Professional Success in the College of Arts and Sciences, which offers career coaching, signature programming, career fairs and events, and resume review. Students are advised to join one or more career communities and to sign up for Handshake, the University's recruitment platform.

The Department of History also occasionally invites alums to speak with students about career paths. These talks are typically advertised on the Department's Web site (<https://history.osu.edu/>), through social media, and in the weekly news and updates, which is delivered by email during the academic year.

The Department of History Within the University

In addition to undergraduate major and minor degree programs, and graduate programs leading to the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, the Department of History provides other services for the OSU student.

Required Courses in History

The study of history is an essential part of a liberal education. For this reason, the Arts and Sciences curricula have a special history requirement. Introductory history courses (those numbered 1000 and 2000) are usually taken by students to satisfy this requirement. These introductory offerings assume no previous knowledge of history, so students should not hesitate to register for a course at these levels. Because each of the University's undergraduate colleges has slightly different rules about the use of history courses to fulfill general requirements, students should consult the appropriate college catalog for details.

Upper-Level Courses in History

One may appreciate the full strength of the History Department by looking at the wide variety of upper-level courses that the department offers. In general, these courses are open only to students who have taken one lower-level course in history. Although some of these courses have prerequisites, history courses are not sequential, so a student can usually register for any course. Students should talk with the instructor if there is any doubt about taking a particular course. The instructor can tell whether a student is likely to benefit from the course and may be willing to waive any prerequisites.

Course Descriptions

Prior to scheduling, the Undergraduate History Office prepares a listing of all courses to be offered during the next semester. This listing provides detailed information about course offerings, class meeting times, instructors, readings lists and assignments. It is available on the Web at <https://history.osu.edu/courses/info/course-descriptions>.

Preparing for EM Examination in History

In response to inquiries from students on how to prepare for EM examinations (credit by examination) in history, the Department's faculty have compiled the following list of suggestions.

1. First, read the designated material carefully and thoroughly. For History 1211 and 1212 the commonly used text is McKay, Hill, and Buckler, History of Western Society, Vol. 1 for History 1211 and Vol. 2 for History 1212. The cut-off date for History 1211 is the year 1600. For History 1151 and 1152 the History Department recommends Nash and Jeffrey, The American People, 3rd ed., Vol. 1 for History 1151 and Vol. 2 for History 1152. The year 1877 is the cut-off date for History 1151. For History 1681 and 1682 the recommended text is Richard Buillet, et al., The Earth and Its Peoples, Vol. 1 for History 1681 and Vol. 2 for History 1682. The cut-off date for History 1681 is 1500. The texts are available at all campus bookstores.

2. As you read through the material, concentrate on major themes such as economic, political, military, social, and intellectual development. Do not get bogged down in details. You will simply get confused if you try to memorize every date and event. Do not go to the opposite extreme, however, and emerge from your readings with a few hazy generalizations in mind. Like any other analytical discipline, history requires facts to bolster its findings and conclusions.

3. In addition, you should consider obtaining syllabi for the courses for which you desire to obtain EM credit. These are available in the Undergraduate History Office, 110 Dulles Hall. These syllabi highlight themes and topics that appear on the exam, and students find them helpful in determining the material to cover and the areas on which to concentrate. Also, you could borrow class notes from someone who has taken or is currently taking the course for which you will be taking the EM examination. This should give you further aid in focusing your study.

4. When taking the exam, first be sure that you understand the instructions. When writing an essay on a particular topic, be sure to focus on that topic throughout the answer. Often students answer a question by citing a mass of historical data that is unrelated to the question asked. This often leaves the faculty member grading the examination no other choice than to recommend no credit for the exam. Be as analytical as possible in your response. The reiteration of a mass of historical data will get you only a 'C' grade and you need at least a 'B-' in order to receive EM credit in history.

5. Finally, your answers should demonstrate competence in English composition. Good history is good writing. If you feel that your command of written English leaves something to be desired, consult Strunk and White's Elements of Style, a concise resource that contains invaluable information on English composition. The book is readily available at the OSU libraries and at all campus bookstores.

This list of suggestions by no means exhausts the possible strategies to prepare for the examination. No doubt, you will have other ideas on what to do to prepare yourself. Once you are prepared, contact the Office of Testing and schedule an examination date. The telephone number is 292-2241 and the address is 281 W. Lane Avenue in the Student Services Building, Room 585. The Office of Testing will inform you of the examination results. Please Note: Examinations for credit may be taken only one time per course.

History Course Offerings

1000-level history courses cover broad areas of historical investigation (Western, East Asian, American, Latin American and World Civilizations). These courses fulfill GE requirements but do not count toward the history major or minor.

2000-level history courses are intermediate-level courses that serve as GE courses and also count toward the history major and minor. A 2000-level course offers an introduction to a certain geographical or thematic field (constellations), such as early modern European history, women's history, or environmental history. It may also provide an introduction to a more focused subject or theme, such as migration in modern Europe, childhood in the western world, or the history of anti-Semitism. Please note: 2000-level courses do not fulfill an upper-level course requirement for the College of Arts and Sciences.

A 3000-level history course offers upper-intermediate, and often more specialized, training in the geographical and thematic fields introduced at the 2000 level, as well as in-depth training in more focused subjects, such as American presidential elections, magic & witchcraft in early modern Europe, or Jewish communities under Muslim rule. They carry GE credit and are open to non-history majors, as well.

The 4000-level history seminars are open only to history majors and minors. They stress critical reading and writing centered on a well-defined topic in a geographical or thematic field.

5000-level courses are designed for both undergraduate and graduate students. The History Department generally offers very few of these combined courses. Per University definitions, these are advanced-level courses providing undergraduate credit that may be counted toward a major or field of specialization.

Please see the current semester's course offerings for more detailed descriptions.
